A school teacher says the pupils who have access to newspapers at home, when compared with those who have not, are better readers, better spellers, in pronunciation and better grammarians, and more understandingly obtained a practical knowledge of geography in almost half the time it requires others. The newspaper is decidedly an important factor in modern life.

Don't Stop Tobacco.

HOW TO CURE YOURSELF WHILE USING IT.

The tobacco habit grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing health, comfort and happiness. To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco to an inveterate user becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. "Baco-Curo" is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit, in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of an eminent Berlin physician who has used it in his private practice since 1872, without a failure. It is purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want while taking "Baco-Curo." It will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to cure permanently any case with three boxes, or refund the money with 10 per cent. interest. "Baco-Curo" is not a substitute, but a scientific cure, that cures without the aid of will power and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine as the day you took your first chew of smoke. Cured By Baco-Curo and gained Thirty pounds.

From hundreds of testimonials, the originals of which are on file and open to inspection, the following is presented.

Clayton, Nevada Co., Ark., Jan. 28, '95. Eureka Chemical & Mfg. Co., La Crosse, Wis.—Gentlemen: For forty years I used tobacco in all its forms. For twenty-five years of that time I was a great sufferer from general debility and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but couldn't. I took various remedies, among others "No-To-Bac." "The Indian Tobacco Antidote." Double Chloride of Gold," etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finally, however, I purchased a box of your "Baco-Curo" and it has entirely cured me of the habit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and pains of body and mind. I could write a quire of paper upon my changed feelings and conditions. Yours respectfully, P. H. MANNING.

HARTFORD

Wants the Bowling Green Northern Road and Wants it Bad.

Most of the Right of Way Given and Grounds Donated For a Depot.

WILL OFFER MORE.

Bowling Green Advocate says: The probabilities of the Bowling Green and Northern railroad have been heard and discussed throughout the State of Kentucky and that it will be built in the near future has grown into almost a certainty. Since W. H. Vaughan & Co., the promoters of the enterprise addressed a call to the people of Bowling Green and the surrounding country all the towns in the direction the road will run have been interested and are taking such steps as will be of benefit to the proposed route. The town of Hartford, Ky., has been given the matter mature consideration and is dead anxious to secure the road. Its people are willing to put up the cash as an inducement and will donate grounds for the building of a depot. The town, through its Commercial club, has addressed the following communications to the promoters here and will do all things possible to get the road.

"At a meeting of the Hartford Commercial Club last night, the undersigned committee was appointed by the president of said club to correspond with those interested in the proposed new road, to be built from Bowling Green to some point North of said road to make Hartford a point on the line. With this in view we shall undertake, in a brief manner, to indicate a few of the reasons that such a line should be built through our section, and the inducements which will be offered by our people.

First, Hartford is the head of navigation on Rough River, a stream that flows through a large and fertile valley of the richest Kentucky soil, and which is being rapidly improved by the Government. This section is unsurpassed in variety and quantity of best building timber, it is the richest goal field in all Western Kentucky, and rich iron ore has been discovered, and splendid building stone abounded in plenty.

If any indications are given that Hartford will be made a point, we are satisfied our people will take hold of the matter with zeal, and most, if not all the right of way will be given along the line, and Hartford will donate grounds for a depot and suitable yards.

This town wants a railroad, and is willing and anxious to offer any reasonable inducements. We will be pleased to hear some propositions from those interested in the proposed road. Let us hear from you at once. Our people are greatly interested."

Sunset in Prison.

We make the following extract from the prison column of the Tale of Two Cities, of Eddyville:

By a special dispensation of kindness on the warden's part we were permitted to remain out of our cells a few evenings since, and, during our momentary respite, we stood on the apex of the old prison hill and watched the sun go down. For lo! these many years we have toiled and spun beneath the fierce rays of the old orb as it approached and receded from the meridian, but have never, in all this time, seen the sun go down. Toiled when it crossed the equinox and toiled on till it stood fast in summer solstice, toiled on and on in endless duration like the procession of the equinoxes itself—and on and on. When alone in our cell we have often watched the little rectangles of sunlight as they struggled through the prison bars and moved slowly along the asphalt floor, gradually changing the geometrical form, now a perfect square, later an oblique rectangle, and finally a line on the wall that is quickly gone. On the floor of our cell we have drawn little 'sun marks' and these vagrant sun-beams serve to mark the division of time. How strange it seems that our cell-door should serve as a dial-plate to mark the flight of time, but will open only to eternity. We don't know why these few precious moments should have been wasted in watching the sun go down, but there was something so emblematic in a sunset so beautiful that we paused and wondered, and in our wonder we drew a parallel.

The scene was not amid an electrical display that rendered it sublime, but rather a soft mellow sunlight, as though a great calcium light were being thrown against the sky. The deep foliage on the surrounding hills was burnished by its brightness and here and there a stately oak glistened like the towers of Notre Dame.

Hard by the Cumberland river ran its zigzag course till immediately opposite the old prison it seemed to hurry on, like a fugitive from justice and wandering on in its course it seemed, for all the world, to empty just where the sun goes down.

On yonder hill the little white specters that stand as mute sentinels of the dead become more visible as the sun goes down, and the last rays that brighten the little grave-stones seems to be emblematic of the fact that ere long we must all rest there. At last the great sphere touches the horizon and the beauties of the day are enhanced as the shades of night come on. Twilight yields a softness to the scenes of nature and the landscapes becomes a half tone done with artistic skill that surely is divine. In the distance we heard the last strains of a milk-maid's voice as they mingled in resources with the first notes of the philomel. All nature seemed to join in a hymn of liberty—how it made us wish we were free.

What an hour is twilight—the time most loved by lovers—the hour when the music of vesper bells mingles with the laughter of children fresh from school and quickens the songs of a happy and contented people. It is an hour when prisoners think most of home. It is an hour when memory runs back to happier days just as the river runs towards the setting sun. Such a beautiful sunset with its twilight, seems to enhance the price of liberty, and to impress us how dearly we pay the penalty of our transgressions. It is possible that our situation "lends enchantment to the view," but it is so for me imprisonment is not in vain, for it is worth something to read a lesson in liberty on the rays of the setting sun.

As the shades of night thickened we returned to our cell, and, seated on our couch, we extracted a lesson and drew another parallel from the setting sun: Is not death the greatest benefactor of them all?

Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. In Memory.

Little Carl Chapman was born April 17, 1894, died April 21, 1895. He was the son of Willie and Annie Chapman.

Little Carl has gone To the mansion of bliss, His mother left to mourn Her darling one to miss.

Lamenting the mother lingers O'er the little cradle bed, On the pillow is the imprint Of her darling baby's head.

But no form is gently folded, To mother's tender breast, No sweet eyes upturned gazed, Carl has gone to rest.

The tongue that once did prattle, Hushed and still when day was o'er Now in death is hushed forever, But prattles on the golden shore.

Mother's tears she cannot smother, Gently fell like summer rain, Not on earth but up in Heaven, Mother will meet little Carl again.

DEMOCRACY

Shown up in the Right Light by one who has Studied the Subject.

SULPHUR SPRINGS, May 12.

The unanimity with which Democratic State Conventions have declared for free coinage of silver, makes it tolerably certain that the white metal advocates will control the Chicago Convention and declare for the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 in unequal terms. By this action the Democratic party would absorb the various formed and forming parties whose chief aim is the so-called restoration of silver.

The Populist, from whom the Democrats borrowed the iniquitous and now defunct Income Tax law, would rush body and soul into the Democratic camp. The silver and protection party fattened by the five Republican Senators, who, with a silver sword, prevented the passage of the Dingley tariff bill, would Nansen like, engage itself with the conglomeration of Democracy and Populism in the hope of drifting to the desired end.

When the combination of these various elements is considered it will be seen that Republican success depends upon a vigorous educational campaign, in which the American voters must be shown that it is enforced.

Idleness of the wage earners, brought about by the industry destroying National bankruptcy, tariff smashing policy of the present Democratic Administration in which the hard times had its inception, culture and growth and not in the monetary system of the country.

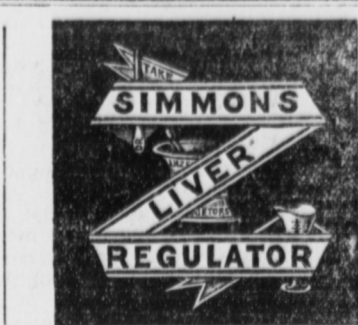

It is not only folly but dangerous to underestimate the free silver sentiment in the United States, and in accounting for it we must take into consideration some conditions that did not exist a few years ago. That the Democratic party should endorse any measure however absurd or impractical that promised a lease of power is neither new nor surprising, but the cheapening of literature has enabled every voter to become a newspaper reader and, instead of following the leadership of tried and trusty leaders the plowman and herdsman have mastered economic questions that have puzzled veteran Statesmen, and are following the leadership of such visionary enthusiasts as Tillman and Teller, Waite and Wolcott, Bland and Blackburn, men who do not scruple to denounce the men now in public life as traitors to the country and hirelings of Wall Street. We would not be understood as questioning the privilege of the humblest citizen in the country to investigate questions of politics. It is not only his privilege but a sacred duty, but it is the character of literature that has been thrust upon the honest voter of which we complain; the senseless, truthless, and criminal attacks of Populists and Democratic papers upon such Statesmen as Sherman, whose Statesmanship will be remembered in history when his slimy calumniators will have been forgotten; as Carlisle, whose purity of character is admired by the respectable element of his political enemies.

For the Republicans to win its managers must recognize in this combination of silver elements, if made, a formidable power and put on the stump men whose motives are above question, for the voters who are howling about the "crime of '73" and the "hirelings of Wall Street" will not only be hard to convince but hard to induce to even consider the other side of the question. A man who forms an opinion without evidence in its favor is loth to consider evidence against it. The greatest factor in the campaign is the Republican press. It can reach the minds of those who have been poisoned by Populistic and Democratic journalism, and with a well directed effort on the part of the Republican press to impress upon the voters the plain and easy proven fact that Democratic tariff smashing and not contraction of the currency brought on the hard times, the good sense of the American voters can be trusted to return the Republican party to power and prosperity to the country.

Others Failed, Hood's Cured.

"My husband was taken down with what a specialist pronounced to be internal ulcerated piles. He was treated and became apparently well, but in about a year the trouble again appeared and he had five different doctors but he continued to get worse. He was so weak that he could not sit up without help. After a while he gave up the doctor's medicine and began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. In about a month he was able to walk in the yard. He has now taken seven bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is able to walk and drive and work a little." NOLIA E. HEAD, Deatsville, Ky.

Mr. Will Skillman has had the sore eyes for years. He has tried many doctors and remedies, and has always failed to get relief until we sold him a tube of Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve, which cured him inside of one week. Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey sells well and cures. Respy, Jan. 15, 1895. Buras, Ky. Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve has done a great deal more for me than can be told by pen. W. H. SKILLMAN, Buras, Ky. For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro., druggist, and Renfrow Bros., Narrows, Ky.

Hartford is still on a boom, new business starting up every week.

If it be in order we move that Mr. Cleveland put the Presidency under Civil Service Rule.

With the Bowling Green Northern Railroad, running into Hartford, and river navigation, we will soon have a little city.

No Democrat can be elected as President this year, because no man can find a single reason for voting for a Democrat.

Some Democratic newspapers are advertising the new Democratic hand book. Wonder if it is any way like the one they used last year?

DEMOCRATS tried to dodge the tariff question by agitating financial issue. They succeeded in solidifying the Republicans on the tariff, and dividing themselves on the financial question. "Let the galled Jade Wince."

ONE thing at least can be said of the Democratic party. It is still able to cast a shadow. Albeit it is so thin in order that it quite frequently is forced to lean against a fence to support its weary legs—ah!—limbs we meant.

The weather has been exceedingly warm for May, and it has been so remarkably dry that the wheat crop has been seriously injured in many parts of the State. We will excuse the Democratic party for causing this drouth and failure in the wheat because the burdens that have been cast upon its shoulders are already heavier than it can bear.

THE Hartford Herald, noted for its original editorials, finds itself in a predicament. It is at a loss, whether it shall speak out its sentiments on the issue now agitating its own party, or whether it shall throw principles and issues to the winds and follow its past custom of narrow-minded partisanship, irrespective of principle, issues or anything else. This halting between plain duty and the desire to crawl in the old ruts of prejudice, upon the part of the original Herald, is very oppressive to a host of already tired friends.

On May 4th Gen. P. W. Hardin spoke at Harrodsburg for two long weary hours on the subject of free and unlimited coinage of silver. The Courier-Journal says that he answered Carlisle's five points by saying that two of them were damned lies, and three of them fallacies. Such purple arguments are characteristic of such men as Hardin. Thus it is shown as the days pass, that the Democratic nominee for Governor of this State is a man of an extremely narrow mind and has not a single element of statesmanship in his make up. It was a bright day for Kentucky when Hardin was defeated.

JUST as Mr. Cleveland is about to vacate the Presidential chair he makes a sweeping order placing about all the Federal offices under Civil Service rule. This is done for nothing but partisan purposes. It is done to retain his old henchmen in office after he has sunk into oblivion, and his mortal carcass is wafted in the desert breeze by the wings of what ducks he has left in the country. He has conducted his office all along to serve a partisan purpose and now to cover everything with the civil service not only tends to make his party rise up in arms against him and his administration, but is condemned by all good people. If Cleveland's prospects were bright for another term he would never have made such an extension as he has just made. Down with rotten Democracy and their tactics.

PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup, Cures Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, Asthma, Consumption.

It will only be one month until the greatest National Convention we have ever had will assemble at St. Louis, and then we will see a return of prosperity.

EVERY body knows that Hon. T. B. Reed is tenacious and pugnacious, which accounts for him and his managers still claiming that he will be nominated at St. Louis.

THE Democratic Party shows great respect for the memory of the old soldiers who fought to preserve the Union. Their respect has led them to call their County Convention, for May 30th, Decoration Day.

It would be well for citizens to post themselves on the Hiles educational bill which is now a law. There are some things in it that every body should know. An article on this law will shortly appear in these columns.

Now that the Appropriation Bill has passed the Senate, and the money is made available at once for the completion of Rough River, there is no reason why the work should not be completed inside of three months. There is nothing to prevent the work being pushed through without delay. Get men hold of it who are industrious and energetic and the job will be finished soon, and when that is done we will have a low freight rate of not more than 5c or 10c, on the hundred. Hartford's prospects are indeed bright. We need more houses here. Let all our business men pull together, and our business prosperity is assured.

The Macungie Progress says that apples may be kept two years by simply wrapping them in newspapers. In order not to make a failure of the business, however, newspapers that have been paid for should be used, otherwise the dampness resulting from the dyes may cause the fruit to spoil.—(Girardville, Penn., Item.)

Dr. Stanley Persecuted.
For some time a disagreement has existed among the employees of the Hopkinsville Asylum, brought about by the appointment by Supt. Letcher of a Democrat who had been discharged by the former administration for assaulting an inmate, and who was reported to be a man of very immoral character. He again lost his place, and it seems, blamed Dr. Stanley with it, and sought a difficulty with him, provoked an assault and received a sound thrashing, just as respectable people at Hopkinsville say he needed and deserved. Dr. Stanley was given a small fine, and the prosecuting attorney dismissed the case against Naughton in order to bring a suit against Stanley for $1,000.00. Dr. Stanley has retained Attorneys C. M. Barnett, of this place, and Petree and Downer, of Hopkinsville, to defend him in the action.

Will Delay Pension Payments.
WASHINGTON, May 13.—The department has ordered that after July 1st there shall be no temporary clerks employed in the pension agencies to assist in making the quarterly payments. This order will result in serious delaying the payment on pensions at the Louisville agency, and efforts are being made to induce Commissioner Lochren to rescind the order.

Children's Day.
Next Sunday is the regular Children's Day at the Methodist Church of Hartford. Everybody is invited to attend. Brother Barnett, of the State of Ohio, is here on a visit to friends, and I shall be glad to have him preach at 11 a. m. and also at night.

J. S. CHANDLER.

Harris-Brown.
Miss Emma Brown, of Island, Ky.; the youngest child of Mr. Allen Brown, deceased, and Mr. C. R. Harris, a prominent farmer near Sacramento, Ky., were united in holy matrimony at the home of the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. A. J. Buskill, Point Pleasant, at 7 o'clock, Thursday evening, May 7th, 1896. Rev. Cashman performed the ceremony in a beautiful and impressive manner. There were only a few friends and relatives present. They left the next day for their home near Sacramento. THE REPUBLICAN joins their many friends and extends congratulations.

HARDINSBURG.

Masonic Lodge—Judge Ahl—Big Fire and Other Items.

HARDINSBURG, May 12.
Mr. Victor Robertson a stock dealer of Glendane, had his arm broken last Monday night while loading hogs out at the depot.

The Masons of the local lodge had a supper Monday evening at the Court House. They had several tables arranged in the Court House Hall which were tastefully decorated, and each was presided over by a beautiful young lady and a young man who though not so good looking as his companion, was fairly good looking. Strawberries, ice cream, cake, etc. were served and a large number partook of the same. The supper was a financial success and the proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Lodge.

Mr. S. T. Elder, of Chenault, sustained a heavy loss last Friday by fire. A large barn was totally destroyed. Four head of horses and mules, about 1500 bushels of corn and 20 tons of hay all went up in smoke with the building. The loss of Mr. Elder will amount to fully two thousands dollars, and he had no insurance. Mr. Elder is the father-in-law of County Clerk Owen Cummings.

County Judge Ahl was in Cloverport last Saturday. Cloverport was the home of the Judge previous to his election to the office which he now holds, and when ever he goes down there it is a hard matter for him to get away. He has so many friends down there, and as they all want to see him and talk to him, he can not get away from them except by simply running out of town.

FLOPPING.—Your correspondent has been in various portions of this and other counties recently and has noted that a great change is going on among the people in regard to their political sentiment. The last election to be sure showed that many men had changed in their political views. They went to the polls they voted differently from their usual way. Now however they make no bones about the matter. We have recently heard strong Democrats say that they were for a protective tariff and that they thought the financial question was all bosh. The drift of public sentiment to day shows that the people recognize that we need a protective tariff of the same sort as the McKinley Tariff. This sentiment is strong and growing rapidly. We have a good currency now, and under Republican administration we had the best financial system in the world. Our financiers were there and still are equal to the best in the financial world. It is not worth while for Republicans to spend time on financial matters. The people have confidence in the ability of the Republican party to give us sound money. They know also that the Republican party will give us a protective tariff. This is what they want.

CIRCUIT COURT.—Circuit Court convened here Monday. The docket at this term is the lightest known for years. A smaller crowd than usual was in town, but the untiered horse swapper was out in force. Many a clay-bank gingered man exhibited unusual gaiety and wound up the day with a dull headache and a dark brown taint in his mouth. But while the docket is light, one of the most important suits ever filed in this court will be submitted for judgment we refer to the case of John D. Beeler vs. Taylor Beard & Co. The following named gentlemen constitute the grand jury viz: J. P. Severs, Gerard Foote, Jesse L. Owen, Dave Driskell, Crawford Beauchamp, Ralph Knott, W. H. Board, James Wheatley, Jno. B. Frymire, Fletcher Mercer, E. C. Burton and J. T. Owen. Mr. Jesse L. Owen was made foreman. The petit jury men are as follows: John T. Henniger, L. B. Keelm, William C. Casey, George Glascock, Henry C. Gibson, Jesse W. Tucker, Alfred Miller, John H. Butler, Joe H. Hayes, Elijah H. Miller, Jesse T. Tucker, J. Parsons, James L. Ball, Chas. C. Davis, William Matthews, Nathaniel Tucker, John T. Compton, Richard S. Morris, John C. Furrow, W. N. Pate, H. C. Cooper, J. L. Funk, Jesse Mackey, C. F. Black, Ludwell R. Addison. Tuesday morning Wesley Gross and Ellen Gross were brought into court and were tried for larceny. The jury found them to be idiots. They came to this county from Butler county about a year ago. Among those present at the opening of the court were John C. Miller, of Big Spring; Eli H. Dean, of Glendane; Hon. Chas. Blanford, of Bewleyville; John W. Jarrett, Stephensport and John R. DeHaven, of Cloverport.

ROBIN HOOD.
"Ten people out of a dozen are invalids," says a recent medical authority. At least eight out of these ten, it is safe to allow, are suffering from some form of blood-disease which a persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla would be sure to cure. Then don't be an invalid.

Minutes of Alexander Sunday School for May 10th.
Choir sang No. 21—"My Heavenly Home;" the Superintendent then read the first 16 verses of the 17th chapter of Matthew and offered a fervent prayer. The choir then sang song No. 95—"The Beautiful Day," and Sunday School was then declared open. In the absence of Mr. J. R. Williams Mr. Sherman Williams held his class, and in the absence of Mr. J. R. Williams and Miss Lenz King their classes were consolidated with the class of Mrs. Alex Barnett.

The calling of the roll showed 38 present and 18 absent. The lesson was found in Luke the 18th chapter; from verse 6 to 17. Subject of lesson, "Prayer." Golden text—"The Publican standing afar off would not so much as lift up his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. Topic—God accepts the humble, but rejects the proud. The names of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dulaney, Messrs El Crabtree, T. C. Park, H. A. Park, Ed Holland and Miss Eva Berryman were enrolled as new members. The Superintendent then announced to the school that we had been invited to take part with the Washington Sunday School on the 2nd Sunday in June—Children's Day. A motion was made and carried that a committee be appointed to arrange a program for that day. C. H. Ellis, U. C. Barnett, Sherman Williams, Misses Nettie Anderson and Lulu Tanner were appointed as members of that committee. By motion the hour of meeting was changed from the hour of 4 to the hour of 4:30 collection. The choir then sang No. 70, "Will God be There," and school was adjourned.

Kentucky Crop Reports for April, 1896.

The report for this month is taken from replies received from 185 correspondents, representing 103 counties.

WHEAT.
There is a general report of improvement in the condition of wheat during April. The forcing weather which prevailed during the entire month has brought the crop from what was an extremely backward condition to something very nearly approaching a normal condition of growth for the season. From three counties complaints are received of damage being done the crop by chinch bugs.

The average condition is given at 74 being an improvement of 5 points for the month. On acreage the average is 87.

OATS.
The oat crop represents several stages of advancement at this time. The early sown oats, although suffering to some extent from the absence of moisture, has made fair progress, while the late sown has from the same cause experienced some difficulty in germinating. The acreage averages 95.

CORN.
Corn planting is practically over. In the central and southern section some fields are up and are being cultivated. The early corn where not interfered with by worms is looking well and an excellent stand was obtained; but by far the larger portion of the crop is yet in the ground and a general report on condition is impractical at this time. All correspondents report a large percentage of 1895 crop still in farmers' hands.

The acreage for 1896 is given at 97.
TOBACCO.
Correspondents report a very general disposition to reduce the acreage for 1896. The low price coupled with the large per cent. of the 1895 crop still unmarketed is having a depressing effect on production. The acreage for 1896 as compared with an average year is given at 81. Per cent. of 1895 crop still in first hands is 49. From four counties report of great damage to plants by the flea are received.

HEMP.
The average yield per acre for crop of 1895 which is now broken out is 1,020 pounds per acre. The acreage for 1896 compared with an average year is estimated at 105.

PASTURES AND MEADOWS.
Conditions of pastures and meadows average 86 and 87 respectively. Number of hogs being fattened for market as compared with an average year, by percentage is given at 90. Seventy correspondents representing fifty-two counties report no cholera or other contagious diseases.

SHEEP.
Lamb crop as compared with an average year is given at 85. Lambs are in excellent condition for the season.

HORSES AND MULES.
Number of colts foaled as compared with an average year is 57. Number of mares being bred as compared with an average year is 60. Number of mules colts foaled as compared with an average year is 54. With a diminished production a return of profitable prices for both horses and mules might reasonable be expected, were it not for the large surplus of matured stock.

DROUTH.
The drouth during April was unprecedented for the season. From thirty-one counties the complaint of damage to wheat, oats and young grass are especially noticeable.

CUTWORMS.
From thirteen counties reports of great damage from this source to corn, tobacco beds, and clover, were received. In view of the very early report of the presence of these pests this season, it is gratifying that the damage is no greater than reported. Warm weather has prevailed now for a period of a month and it is reasonable to suppose that the eggs producing the worms have mainly been hatched.

FRUIT CROP.
The outlook for the fruit crop is bright. While we may not expect apples and those fruits that bore so profusely last year to repeat the phenomenal crops, still a fair crop of these seem to be assured; while peaches, cherries and all other stone fruits promised abundant crops. The indication at present are that this will be a banner year.
Small fruits are also in good condition with the exception of strawberries, which have suffered somewhat from drouth. LUCAS MOORE, Commissioner of Agriculture, etc.

Mothers

Anxiously watch declining health of their daughters. So many are cut off by consumption in early years that there is real cause for anxiety. In the early stages, when not beyond the reach of medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore the quality and quantity of the blood and thus give good health. Read the following letter:

"It is but just to write about my daughter Cora, aged 19. She was completely run down, declining, had that tired feeling, and friends said she would not live over three months. She had a bad and nothing seemed to do her any good. I happened to read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and had her give it a trial. From the very first dose she began to get better. After taking a few bottles she was completely cured and her health has been the best ever since." Mrs. ADDIE PACE, 12 Railroad Place, Amsterdam, N. Y.

"I will say that my mother has not stated my case in as strong words as I would have done. Hood's Sarsaparilla has truly cured me and I am now well." CORA PACE, Amsterdam, N. Y.

Perfect Wisdom
Would give us perfect health. Because men and women are not perfectly wise, they must take medicines to keep themselves perfectly healthy. Pure, rich blood is the basis of good health. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the One True Blood Purifier. It gives good health because it builds upon the true foundation—pure blood.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.

JUDELL.

Attorney J. B. Vickers left for Hartford last Tuesday morning. Mr. Vickers will make his future home there. Jo is one of the best of men, a good lawyer and has built up a large practice while here. For the purpose of being convenient to the records he has moved to Hartford, having rented an office opposite the Court House. The people of Fordville will miss Jo's genial face and regret to lose him, but while it is a considerable loss to Fordville, Hartford has gained one of the brightest lights in the profession. He will however be a very frequent visitor to Fordville.

One of the best evidences that Ayer's Hair Vigor is an article of exceptional merit is the fact that the demand for it is constantly increasing. No one who uses this incomparable dressing thinks of trying any other preparation for the hair.

Not an Ex-Priest.
The following correspondence which was handed us by J. S. Chandler explains itself.

HARTFORD, KY., May 8, 1896.
Prof. C. C. Cline, Cincinnati, O.

Dear Sir and Brother:—I wrote a short article for the Hartford papers in reference to your visit here, in which I spoke of you as a converted priest, since which I have concluded that I have you mixed up with Slattery, and possibly you were never a Catholic. Please answer immediately so I can make the necessary correction and apology.

Fraternally,
J. S. CHANDLER.

P. S.—Please return this with your answer.

J. S. C.

WALNUT HILLS, Cincinnati, O., May 10, 1896: Dear brother Chandler—

I will gladly accept your apology for classing me with the ex-priests. I am a minister of thirty years' standing from a family that has never had a Catholic in it on either side of the house, and I shall hope will never have in the remotest ramification of its Protestant blood. I was taught to protect against this mystery of inquiry from boyhood up. I am only filling up the lack in what is called the Protestant ministry by setting forth God's denunciations of the old woman on Tiber. Kindest regards to you and yours.

C. C. CLINE.

Cures, absolute, permanent cures have given Hood's Sarsaparilla the largest sales in the world and the first place among medicines.

Mr. O'Riley's Letter.

LEITCHFIELD, KY., May 8, '96.
Special to The Hartford REPUBLICAN: J. S. Chandler, J. S. Coleman, of Hartford, Ky., stated in the columns of the Hartford Herald that Prof. C. C. Cline, of Cincinnati, Ohio, is a converted Priest. This is absolutely false. He lectured in Leitchfield, Ky., last August for three successive nights as an A. P. A. He is known to the people of this town to be formerly a preacher of the Christian degeneration, and now goes about from place to place lecturing against the Catholic Church here, who is a prominent lawyer, refused him the use of the Christian Church on the account of the character of the man and subject he lectured on.

D. O'RILEY.

Mr. Tom Clark died last Sunday and was buried here the following day. Rev. G. J. Bean preached the funeral.

Mr. Mose Fuqua and several young men went to Green river fishing last week.

Born to the wife J. F. Gray a girl, Mr. Fount Tatum is on the sick list.

Your scribe will be in town next Monday with a patent churn.

Now gentlemen, if it is any of my business to answer Mr. S. L. St. Clair, of Olaton, I will say that he wrote a good letter and made a good selection for November, 1897. I am like the Jingo Plowboy Sam A. Anderson can do the work for the REPUBLICAN office and be Circuit Clerk too, and do it well.

live sometimes when girdled nearly around. Nature ever labors to repair damage, and after a time, the wounded surfaces are nicely healed. Some persons live and fully recover, even after consumption has made cavities in the lungs. In this struggle we can greatly aid nature by giving Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites. The oil supplies needed fat, and the hypophosphites tone up the nerves. The decline in weight ceases. A positive gain begins, and once again there is promise of life and health. It is never too late to try.

Scott's Emulsion has been endorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. Call your dealer. This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your help.
